Open Up the Possibilities

The Chicago Selective Enrollment High Schools (SEHS) are designed to offer a child the challenge of rigorous academic standards and an environment in which to thrive both intellectually and culturally. Diversity of experience and challenging classes can give your child a leg-up in the college admissions process. Students who attend these elite public high schools can be more attractive to college admissions officers.

SelectivePrep's SEHS Program

SelectivePrep offers intensive classroom training to prepare your child for the SEHS entrance examination. This program is structured around eight, two-hour sessions covering the key academic areas of the SEHS test. Your child will also learn test-taking skills to assist him or her in achieving the highest score possible.

Classes will be offered either at local schools or at a nearby facility after school or on weekends. SelectivePrep classes will be offered in the fall prior to the SEHS entrance examination typically administered in December.

Selective Enrollment High Schools Admissions Process

To gain admission to a Selective Enrollment High School, 8th grade students must take a separate SEHS entrance exam. The score from this exam is a full 30% of the admission criteria. Our program is focused on helping students prepare for the SEHS Entrance Exam.

FACT: The Selective Enrollment High Schools accept less than one out of every five students who apply.

The Competition

To gain admission into one of the Chicago Public School's Selective Enrollment High Schools, your child must excel on the SEHS Entrance Exam. Competition for slots is fierce... and increasing. As more families opt to stay in the city and as private school students become more aware of this program, competition for these slots will only intensify.

Competition has made the admission process increasingly numbers based. SelectivePrep can help your child score those critical extra points that can make the difference.
